In the shooting match at Jamestown Greene county, Yesterday, the score stood as round, being the poorest ever had on the ground. There was a "slow runaway," if you happen to know what that is, on West Columbia street this forenoon. A vegetable peddler's horse, a mile in ten minutes animal, pricked up one ear and manifested an intent to increase his pace to a mile in five minutes, which so alarmed the peddler that he scrambled out over the tail-board of the wagon, leaving the trisky old steed to be stopped at Factory street by some workmen, one of whom simply seized the bridle, when the horse stopped.

Incendiary Fire at Lilly Chapel.

A saloon and contents belonging to David Commeans, in Lilly Chapel, east of here, on the L. B. & W. railroad, were burned last night. No insurance. Incendiary. Commeans had his saloon and residence burned to the ground in April, his family barely escaping with their lives. He has been made a poor man, having all he possessed destroyed. This is the village that has been waging war against a saloon being operated in the place. Whisky had never been sold there until Commeans opened this spring. He claims his property was set on fire by persons in that locality, and says he will stay with them, it results. People of this place pity Com. means as the methods to persecute him have been carried so far. An anti-liquor society has been formed in the place, and they claim no man shall run a saloon in their community, and trouble is anticipated, as Commeans is a man of pluck and bravery.

A Remarkable Fact in Court Records.

Patriotic people, advocating public good, often quote court statistics to show promoting sources of crimes committed. Teiling shafts are frequently shot at assailable points in the distilled beverage trade, by tracing infractions of law and morality directly to the debasing effect of vicious goods unscruptionally sold by avaricious dealers. The strictest investigation among all court records discious the remarkable fact that not a single breach of law or morals has ever been tangibly inspired or stetted by the many millions of bottles of Derry's Pune Malty Whisker that have been add and consumed. The reason is obvious. First, it is absolutely free from all residium of deadly poisons found in ordinary liquous, which excita freeny, create morbid cravings and beget degrared appatites. Second, it is the most scientific concentration of the nutritious and tonic qualities of the finest barley, and quite as beneficial for universal uses the best press! The G. A. R. Executive Committee held a called meeting at the hall on Limestone street last evening. A resolution was adopted requesting the use of the telephone poles from the company to conduct the electric light wires to the fair grounds. This was done because the Telephone Company refused to grant this to the Electric Light Company but aid that the G. A. R. could obtain the permission for the asking. As Governor their intention of attending, the committee on Hotels was instructed to procure suitable quarters for the distinguished guests. T. M. Jugenheim was appointed chairman with directions to appoint the other members of a committee to assist a similar committee apcointed by the Woman's Relief Corps to procure quarters for the visiting ladies, about 460 of whom are expected to be present. The tent question was again brought, and after a long discussion a resolution was adopted requesting Col. White to fix the date of the 7th Regiment encampment at such a date that residence on East High street last night, but the G. A. R. might have the use of the Seventh Regiment tents for August 6 and 7. The committee did this very reluctantly, for they had hoped to have the Seventh encamped during the great gathering and to have it appear in the parade; but it's a case of necessity, and every tent that can be gotten must be taken. A letter was received this morning from Colonel Hetrick, of Van Wert, offering the committee the Second Regiment tents, 80 in number, If Capt, Sintz succeeds today in obtaining the tents of the Third regiment, it will swell the number already secured to almost 500. THE QUESTION SETTLED

The Gay and Gallant Seventh to Go Loder Canvass at Kenton, Wednesday, July 29 for One Week.

As indicated in a report of proceedings at last night's meeting of the G. A. R. executive committee, an arrangement was made with Colonel W. J. White for the use of the tents belonging to the Seventh regiment, O. N. G. during the Grand Army encompment in August. This necessitated the fixing of date for the regimental encompment about one week earlier than intended, and it is an nounced today, by authority, that the Seventh will go into camp on the Hardin county Fair Grounds, at Kenton, Wednesday July 29 for five days, breaking camp the Monday or Tuesday following, when the tents will be shipped directly to this city. The authorities at Columbus have been notified of this arrangement and the Adjutant General will today or tomorrow issue his order, after which Col. White will publish the usual General Orders and instructions. The Big Six band will accompany the regiment to camp, and, as usual, add not a little to its success and pleasure, besides of itself attracting many visitors to the dress parades and review. It is expected a special train will leave here about 10 a. m. July 20, over the L. B. & W., with the Springfield, Hamilton, Miamisburg, Germantown and Mt. Sterling companies the Celina and Kenton companies joining the main body at Kenton. The old Seventh, under Colone Case, camped on the same grounds now to be occupied a number of years ago, and it was one of their best turnouts, the officers and men being all delighted. The Fifth Battery was ordered to camp with the Seventh, but it is claimed the date is too early to suit the convenience of many of the men, and it is possible a change to a later one will be allowed. Otherwise the battery will go to Kenton with the Seventh.

The Wagner Scandal,

Rev. A. E. Wagner, J. H. Ulrich and J. L. dimmerman returned yesterday afternoon from Wapakoneta, where they went the day before to demand an investigation and determine upon what plan of action to pursue in clearing up the cloud of scandal that now glowers over the minister's head. The members of his former congregation received Mr. Wagner very kindly, and all seemed inclined o give him a fair chance and suspend their dgment in the matter until the courts prove him either innocent or gullty. No steps will be taken at present, at least, against the Enquirer or against those who originated the report, but Wagner will remain on the detensive, as he has little doubt that the other party will bring suit for bastarde within a day or two. If he succeeds in clearing himself from this charge it will be time to bring action egainst the paper, if such action is considered wise. All the developments in the case will thus be brought before the courts of Aughtize county.
